The New London Historical Society Board of Directors is pleased to announce the appointment of Kathryn Butler to the position of Executive Director. As the NLHS Chief Executive Officer, she will provide administrative leadership in all areas of the Society's operations including collections management, docent recruitment and training, exhibit installations, educational and community programming, member services, and marketing.

Kathryn's experience includes serving as director of the Cuttyhunk Historical Society (Cuttyhunk Island, MA); executive director of the Banner House Museum (Banner Elk, NC); manager of visitor services of the Smithsonian American Art Museum and the National Portrait Gallery (D.C.); and manager of visitor services for the Worcester Art Museum (Worcester, MA.)

In the 1980s and early 1990s she lived and worked in this area. She is thrilled to return to New Hampshire for the hiking, kayaking, and interesting people. She is also a potter, formerly a member of the League of NH Craftsmen.

Kathryn has moved from Cuttyhunk and Templeton Massachusetts, with plans to live in New London. When not out in the Village and Museum, she can be found in her office at 73 Country Road. Stop by and say hello!
